SAUNTERINGS

Those in society are scarcely having a minute they can call their own, and the invitations for the week to come are so numerous that there will apparently be no cessation of the gayeties for every set and ciique in town. With two vaudeville houses, two stock houses and the Salt Lake theatre offering frequent attractions and the indoor dancing starting afresh at the hotels and cafes, there will be plenty to do for those so inclined, without the numerous private affairs on the schedule, but every afternoon and evening there is a full quota of these.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Armstrong will return from their wedding trip tomorrow and remain a week. The cance to be given in their honor by Samuel Newhouse at the Newhouse hotel next Thursday, is being looked forward to with unusual interest. It is for only the younger set, with a few exceptions, but there is a whisper that it is to be a wonderful party in that host's best style and will be followed by a brilliant supper at midnight and numerous features which are a secret as yet.

On the roof garden of the Utah on Monday afternoon Mrs. Benner X. Smith will entertain at a large reception for her daughter, Mrs. Armstrong, the Misses Edna and Margaret Dunn will give a luncheon for the bride on Tuesday, on Wednesday Mrs. W. W. Armstrong will give a reception and tea for Mrs. Sherman Armstrong at her home and numerous informal luncheons and dinners are also planned in honor of the young people.

Where are the names of yesterday-the good old-fashioned names? Or is it possible we haven't kept up with the procession? On one society page of a recent Sunday edition of a daily newspaper, we noted the following names, which sound a little like a story from the battlefields in France or an account of the captures being made on the eastern front in Europe. The names are below:

Certel, Cleone, Dophelia, Jetta, Myrl, Merine, Zena, Maurine, Jeneta, Dudean, Arvilla, Arima, Lorrain, Necy, Deon, Alda, Nadine, Zola, Birma, Amber, Virda, Laree, Roxey, Oril, Aleda, Gen, Dereda, Indra, Echo, "at the punch bowl," Nympha, Emmerett, Vervene, Tona, Dura, Egda, Nena and

A wedding of Thursday which occurred in Chicago was of considerable local interest owing to the prominence of the groom in the business and social circles of this city, was that of Miss Ruth Eberhardt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Eberhardt, to Thomas R. Bryne which occurred at St. Bride's cathedral in the morning, the Rev. Father Lynch officiating. It was a large and fashlonable affair, attended by several hundred friends of the young people and at noon following, a wedding breakfast was given at the home of the bride's parents, where the guests included the relatives and intimate friends. After a wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Byrne will arrive here to make their home in this city.

An event of importance from a society standpoint and one in which there should be unusual interest, will be the concert next Friday evening at the Hotel Utah for the benefit of the reading room for the blind at the public library. Among those who will appear are such artists as Miss Florence Kimball and Miss Lydia White, and Mrs. Sybella Clayton Bassett. are very few people who realize how much good is being done by the ladies who have this real charity in charge and the fact that only a few hundred dollars is necessary every year to maintain the room, should be an incentive for everyone to buy tickets for the affair. Unless one has come in close contact with the work, it is impossible to realize what it means to those who seemingly have nothing but darkness ahead, and there is no more deserving charity in all the city than this one.

Besides, the program that is being arranged is such as to attract any who really know or like music, and it will be a society event of supreme importance on that evening. Among those who are actively engaged in the general work connected with the charity and who are making special arrangements for the affair of next Friday are Mrs. Arthur Bird, Mrs. Russel G. Schulder, Mrs. Lewis B. McCornick, Mrs. O. J. Salisbury, Mrs. C. P. Gverfield, Mrs. C. E. Allen, Mrs. Clifford Pearsall, Mrs. Daniel Alexander, Mrs. John Cain, Miss Joanna Sprague, Mrs. Georgiana Webber and Miss Daisy Reybould.

We're getting on. We have a new bishop at the cathedral and a Pope for a Federal judge.

The return of Mrs. William Cummings Story, president general of the national organization of the Daughters of the American Revolution and the party of delegates with her was celebrated with a breakfast at the Country club early in the week at which Mrs. Lee Charles Miller, Mrs. C. P. Overfield and Mrs. R. E. Wight presided. Covers were laid for seventy.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Jenkins gave an elaborate dinner at the Hotel Utah on Monday in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Beck.

Miss Lita Spry, daughter of Governor and Mrs. William Spry, whose marriage to Joseph H. Wootten will take place a week from Monday. has been the complimented guest at a number of
